1. The request for a continued prosecution application (CPA) under 37 CFR 1.53(d) filed on 4/2/2003 is acknowledged. 37 CFR 1.53(d)(1) was amended to provide that the prior application of a CPA must be: (1) a utility or plant application that was filed under 35 U.S.C. 111(a) before May 29, 2000, (2) a design application, or (3) the national stage of an international application that was filed under 35 U.S.C. 363 before May 29, 2000. See Changes to Application Examination and Provisional Application Practice, interim rule, 65 Fed. Reg. 14865, 14872 (Mar. 20, 2000), 1233 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 47, 52 (Apr. 11, 2000). Since a CPA of this application is not permitted under 37 CFR 1.53(d)(1), the improper request for a CPA is being treated as a request for continued examination of this application under 37 CFR 1.114. See id. at 14866, 1233 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office at 48.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 8-9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 8 and 11 depend from canceled claims.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- 3. Claims 1-3,6,11-14,16,19-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Matsunaga (JP#04-184464).

Matsunaga teach an imaging system comprising a plurality of consumable replaceable toner cartridges 5A, 5B, 5C, and 5D which are insertable into an opening (no reference numeral) in the imaging system via a guide and gear system 10A-10D and 23,22,19. The plurality of cartridges are mounted in a rotatable carousel having a door 30. If a toner end detection is detected via sensor 24,25, a cartridge is automatically ejected out of the image forming system from the opening. An access door 30 which is openable and closable is provided remote from the actual opening in which the toner cartridges pass. As seen in Fig. 6, the toner cartridge is guided into position through the opening with the access door in the closed position.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 4-5,15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Matsunaga (JP# 04-184464) in view of Tani et al.

Matsunaga taught supra discloses everything claimed except a display which will display the toner end signal. Tani et al. teach an imaging system having a replaceable toner cartridge 27 insertable into an opening 23a. When it is detected by a sensor 22 that a toner is nearly depleted, a message on a display will inform the operator to supply toner. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to display a toner end signal to the operator because the operator can be informed of the status of the imaging system.

5. Claims 1,6,8-9,13,16-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kitajima et al. in view of Kasamura et al.

Kitajima et al. teach an imaging system comprising a plurality of replaceable toner cartridges 1, a plurality of openings 2, and guides (such as the walls of the openings) which guide the cartridge into an in-use position. Access doors 100b are openable and closable so as to gain access to the image forming parts and is completely unrelated to the toner cartridge loading system. The toner cartridges are configured to be loaded while the access door is in the closed position. Specifically, Kitajima et al. teach everything claimed except the cartridges and openings having registration key/fin mechanisms which allow an appropriate cartridge to be loaded. Kasamura et al. teach an imaging system having a replaceable toner cartridge 32 which is insertable into an opening 23a in the imaging system. The cartridge has a fin 33 which mates with a slot 24 of the opening so that an appropriate cartridge can be inserted into the system. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the cartridges in Kitajima et al. with the fin/slot mechanism in Kasamura et al. because containers having different color toner can always be inserted in the correct dispensing location.

6. Applicant's arguments filed 4/2/2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that the base reference Matsunaga (JP) does not teach a "guide assembly adapted to guide the consumable containing cartridge to an in-use position within the cartridge holding assembly". The examiner does not agree. It is believed that Matsunaga teach a consumable containing cartridge 5A-5D and a cartridge holding assembly which includes a cover 30 which can be opened and closed, a guide tray 10A-10D which receives a cartridge and when rotated to a correct position will allow the cartridge to be guided to an in-use holding position via a gear assembly 22,23. Thus there is a guide assemble which receives the cartridge and further which moves and guides the cartridge to an in-use position holding position (i.e. a developing position). It might be helpful to have a telephonic interview before the next response due.
